Listening transcript — Part A

Daniel: Good morning. Welcome to the ProVision stand. Can I help you?

Mai: Yes, please. I'm Mai, and I work in the IT office at a language school. We need new projectors for four classrooms, and I'd like some information.

Daniel: Of course. These are our two most popular models, the Lumo 300 and the Lumo 500.

Mai: Could you tell me how much they cost?

Daniel: Sure. The Lumo 300 costs four hundred and twenty pounds, and the Lumo 500 is five hundred and sixty.

Mai: And do you know what the main difference is?

Daniel: The 500 is brighter, so it's better for rooms with big windows. Both models come with a remote control and built-in speakers, but only the 500 can connect to laptops wirelessly.

Mai: I see. Two of our classrooms are very bright, but the other two are quite small and dark.

Daniel: Then you don't need the brightest model in every room.

Mai: That's true. Four Lumo 500s would come to two thousand two hundred and forty pounds, and our budget is only two thousand.

Daniel: In that case, I recommend buying two of each model. That comes to one thousand nine hundred and sixty pounds.

Mai: That's less than our budget. Great, I'll order two of each. Can you tell me whether delivery is free?

Daniel: Yes, it's free for all orders over one thousand pounds.

Listening transcript — Part B

Paul: Good morning, everyone. Today I want to explain how much we spent on IT this year. In total, our IT costs came to twenty-four thousand pounds, which is less than we spent last year.

Paul: First, hardware. We bought ten new desktop computers for reception and the treatment rooms. Each one cost six hundred and fifty pounds, so together they came to six thousand five hundred pounds. The most expensive single item was the new server, which cost eight thousand pounds.

Paul: Next, software. Our new booking software costs a hundred and fifty pounds a month, so we pay eighteen hundred pounds a year for it. We also paid a local company twelve hundred pounds to install new network cables. We spent the rest of the money on training and small repairs.

Paul: Finally, my recommendation for next year. Our printers are the oldest machines in the clinic, and they often break down. I think we should replace them in the spring. Thank you. Are there any questions?

Speaking

2.5 points

Các bài mẫu là gợi ý tham khảo, không phải đáp án đúng duy nhất. Part 1 có câu hỏi mở và không có bài mẫu trong bộ dữ liệu.

Part 1 (S1)

Answer the three questions. Speak for 30–45 seconds for each question.

Suggested time: 45 seconds per question.

1. Which app on your phone is the most useful for you? Compare it with another app that you use. Use comparatives and superlatives (more useful than, the most…, as … as).

2. What is the most expensive piece of technology that you or your family have bought? How much did it cost, and what else did you pay for with it? Use cost, pay, spend or come to.

3. Your university wants to buy new software for students. What would you recommend? Use at least one recommendation structure (I think we should…, I recommend…, it's best to…).

Part 2 (S2)

Explain what you need to find out and ask the questions. Speak for 1–1.5 minutes.

Suggested time: 90 seconds.

Your manager wants to buy a 3-D printer for the design team. You are going to phone the supplier. First, explain briefly what information the team needs. Then say the questions you will ask the supplier, using the cues. Use at least four polite indirect questions (Could you tell me…?, Do you know whether/if…?, Can you tell me…?).

- the price of the printer and the delivery charge
- the cost of the plastic for printing (per kilo)
- the largest model size it can print
- training for the design team
- how long the guarantee lasts

Required language: Indirect questions (at least four) with statement word order: Could you tell me how much it costs?; Do you know whether/if the price includes delivery?; Can you tell me how long the guarantee lasts?.

Sample response

> Our design team wants a 3-D printer, so before we buy one, we need some information about prices, size and support. When I phone the supplier, I'll start with the price. Could you tell me how much the printer costs? Do you know whether the price includes delivery, or is there a delivery charge? Then I'll ask about running costs: can you tell me how much the plastic for printing costs per kilo? After that, I need to know about size, so I'll ask: could you tell me what the largest model size is? Our designers have never used a 3-D printer, so I'll also ask: do you know if you offer training for new users? Finally, I'll ask: can you tell me how long the guarantee lasts? With these answers, we can compare this printer with other models.

Part 3 (S3)

Deal with the situation. Speak for 1–1.5 minutes.

Suggested time: 90 seconds.

Your company has eight salespeople, and they need new mobile phone contracts. Your manager asks you to compare two offers and recommend one. Compare the offers with comparatives and superlatives, say what each offer would cost for the whole team with cost or come to, and give your recommendation with at least two recommendation structures (I recommend…, I think we should…, it's best to…).

- Offer A: £18 per phone a month / 10 GB of data / no calls abroad
- Offer B: £25 per phone a month / unlimited data / cheap calls in Europe
- the sales team visits customers in Europe every month
- monthly budget for the team: £220

Required language: Comparatives and superlatives: cheaper than, more data than, the most expensive; Talking about money: Offer A costs…; for eight phones it comes to…; Recommendations: I recommend + -ing / that we + verb; I think we should…; it's best to….

Sample response

> I've compared the two offers for our eight salespeople. Offer A is cheaper than Offer B. It costs eighteen pounds per phone a month, so for the whole team it comes to a hundred and forty-four pounds. Offer B is more expensive at twenty-five pounds per phone, and that comes to two hundred pounds a month. However, Offer B gives us unlimited data, which is much more than the ten gigabytes in Offer A, and it has cheap calls in Europe. Our team visits customers in Europe every month, so Offer A could become the most expensive option because of extra charges. Offer B is still under our budget of two hundred and twenty pounds. So I recommend choosing Offer B. I also think we should check the data use after three months.
