Part A

Mia, a sales manager, asks Felix, the database administrator, how to get some information from the customer database.

L1. What does the marketing team want?

Answer: D — A list of customers in Da Lat who bought something last year

Giải thích: Mia: "The marketing team wants a list of all our customers in Da Lat who bought something last year."

L2. Which two tables does Mia need for the query?

Answer: B — Customers and Orders

Giải thích: Felix: "Just two: Customers and Orders."

L3. Where does Mia type 'Da Lat'?

Answer: C — In the Criteria row of the City column

Giải thích: Felix: "In the City column, type Da Lat in the Criteria row."

L4. Why does Felix tell Mia to save the query?

Answer: A — So that she can run it again next year without starting again

Giải thích: Felix: "By saving the query, you can run it again next year without starting from the beginning."

L5. What must Mia do before she sends the list to Marketing?

Answer: D — Remove the customers who don't want marketing emails

Giải thích: Felix: "But first, please remove the customers who don't want marketing emails."

Listening transcript — Part A

Mia: Felix, have you got a minute? The marketing team wants a list of all our customers in Da Lat who bought something last year. How can I get that from the database?

Felix: You can do it by running a query. Open the database, click the Create tab, and then choose Query Design.

Mia: OK, I've done that. Which tables do I need?

Felix: Just two: Customers and Orders. Add both of them. Then drag the fields you need into the grid at the bottom: Name, Email, City and Order Date.

Mia: Right. How do I choose only Da Lat?

Felix: In the City column, type Da Lat in the Criteria row. And in the Order Date column, type the dates for last year.

Mia: And then?

Felix: Click Run. The database finds all the matching records. By saving the query, you can run it again next year without starting from the beginning.

Mia: That's really useful. Can I send the list straight to Marketing?

Felix: Yes, by exporting it to a spreadsheet. But first, please remove the customers who don't want marketing emails. There's a field called No Marketing for that.

Mia: Thanks, Felix.

Answer: the guest wi-fi / guest wi-fi / guest wifi / the guest wifi / the guest network / guest network / guest

Giải thích: "Their laptops were still connected to the guest wi-fi, so I connected them to the staff network."

Listening transcript — Part B

Nora: Hi Kim, it's Nora. Before you start your morning shift, here's how last night's update went. I started at ten o'clock in the evening. Before installing anything, I backed up all three servers to the NAS. That took about forty minutes.

Nora: Then I installed the update on the mail server first, because it's the most important one. While it was installing, I checked the logs on the other two servers. There were no errors. After restarting the mail server, I sent a few test emails. Everything worked, so I moved on to the file server and the web server. I finished at half past one.

Nora: There was only one small problem. The web server didn't restart by itself, so I had to switch it on by hand. It's fine now.

Nora: Early this morning, two people from Sales couldn't open the shared drive. That wasn't because of the update. Their laptops were still connected to the guest wi-fi, so I connected them to the staff network. OK, that's everything. Bye.

Instruction email to Daisy

You are a support technician. Daisy, a new receptionist, often uses the office printer, and this morning the paper got stuck inside it. Write an email to Daisy explaining how to clear a paper jam, using the notes below. In your email you must use:
- before or after + -ing at least twice to show the order of the steps (Before opening…, After removing…);
- by + -ing at least once to explain how to do something (by looking…).
Follow the standard layout for an email giving instructions: From / To / Date / Subject, a greeting, It should be quite easy to …, the steps with First / Then / Next / After that / Finally, a reminder (Don't forget to … when you've finished.), then Best wishes and your name, position and department.
Write 80–100 words (do not count the From, To, Date and Subject lines).

- switch off the printer / unplug it (before opening the cover)
- open the front cover / take out the paper tray
- pull the stuck paper out slowly with both hands
- check for small pieces of paper: look inside with a torch
- put the tray back / close the cover
- plug the printer in / switch it on / print a test page
- reminder: wash your hands when you've finished

Speaking

2.5 points

Các bài mẫu là gợi ý tham khảo, không phải đáp án đúng duy nhất. Part 1 có câu hỏi mở và không có bài mẫu trong bộ dữ liệu.

Part 1 (S1)

Answer the three questions. Speak for 30–45 seconds for each question.

Suggested time: 45 seconds per question.

1. Tell me about the first computer or phone you had. When did you get it, and what did you use it for? Use the past simple.

2. What do you do before starting and after finishing an assignment on a computer? Use before + -ing and after + -ing (Before starting…, After finishing…).

3. What were you doing at eight o'clock yesterday evening? Did anything interrupt you? Use the past continuous and the past simple (I was …ing when …).

Part 2 (S2)

Talk about a spreadsheet you made. Speak for 1–1.5 minutes.

Suggested time: 90 seconds.

Last term you made a spreadsheet to follow your marks in one subject. Explain what you did and which formulae you used. Use the past simple (I made…, I typed…, I divided…) and spreadsheet words such as column, row, cell, minus, divide and brackets.

- one row for each test, one column for each part of the test
- the marks for the three parts of each test in columns B, C and D
- column E: (B+C+D) divided by three, with brackets, for the average
- column F: the target mark minus the average
- the cell turned green when the average was higher than the target

Required language: Past simple for finished actions: I made…, I typed…, I divided…; Spreadsheet language: column, row, cell, minus, divide, brackets.

Sample response

> Last term, I made a spreadsheet for my maths marks. I used one row for each test, and the three parts of each test were in columns B, C and D. In column E, I typed a formula with brackets: B plus C plus D in brackets, divided by three. The brackets were important, because without them the spreadsheet divided only D by three. That gave me the average for each test. Then, in column F, I wrote my target mark minus the average, so I could see how many marks I needed. I also made the cell turn green when the average was higher than the target. By the end of the term, most of the cells were green, and I felt much more confident.

Part 3 (S3)

Deal with the situation. Speak for 1–1.5 minutes.

Suggested time: 90 seconds.

Yesterday a new colleague, Lan, could not log in to her account. A colleague from another office phones you and asks what happened. Use the cues to explain how the problem occurred and what you did. Use the past continuous for the actions in progress and the past simple for what happened (She was …ing when …; While I was …ing, …).

- 9.30 a.m.: Lan / prepare the monthly report
- her laptop / restart for an update → she / log in again
- Caps Lock / be on → she / type the wrong password three times → the system / lock her out
- while you / reset her password → she / use a colleague's laptop
- after resetting it → you / show her the Caps Lock light

Required language: Past continuous for the longer action: She was preparing…, While I was resetting…; Past simple for the shorter action and for what you did: the laptop restarted, the system locked her out, I showed….

Sample response

> Yesterday morning, at about half past nine, Lan was preparing the monthly report when her laptop suddenly restarted for an update. When it came back on, she tried to log in again. Unfortunately, the Caps Lock was on, but she didn't notice it. She typed her password three times, and each time it was wrong, so the system locked her out of her account. She phoned me, and I went to her desk. While I was resetting her password, she used a colleague's laptop, so she didn't lose too much time. After resetting it, I showed her the small Caps Lock light on the keyboard. She logged in with the new password at about ten o'clock and finished the report before lunch.
