> Job Vacancy: IT Support Technician at Orbis Travel
>
> Orbis Travel is one of the largest travel companies in Scotland. It sells holidays online and through twelve shops in Edinburgh, Glasgow and Aberdeen. The company's IT department has nine staff, and it is now looking for a full-time IT support technician to join the team at its head office in Glasgow.
>
> The technician will look after the computers, phones and printers of the company's 150 employees. Most problems are simple, such as a forgotten password or a printer that will not work, and the technician usually solves them by phone or by connecting to the user's computer from the office. Once a week, the technician visits one of the shops to check the equipment and talk to the staff there.
>
> Working hours are from 8.30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday to Friday. The technician also has to work one Saturday a month, when the shops are busiest, and gets a free day the following week. The job does not involve any travel outside Scotland.
>
> Applicants must have at least one year's experience in a similar job, and they should be good at explaining technical problems in simple language. A driving licence is useful but not necessary, because all the shops are near train stations. The salary is £24,000 a year, and staff get a 20% discount on holidays. To apply, send your CV and a short letter to Fiona Reid, the IT manager, before 30th June.

R21. What does Orbis Travel do?

A. It sells holidays.
B. It repairs computers.
C. It trains IT technicians.
D. It builds train stations.

R22. How does the technician usually solve simple problems?

A. By visiting the user's shop
B. By sending the computer to Glasgow
C. By phone or by connecting to the user's computer
D. By writing a report for the IT manager

R23. How often does the technician visit one of the shops?

A. Every day
B. Once a month
C. Once a week
D. Twice a year

R24. What happens after the technician works on a Saturday?

A. They get twice the normal pay.
B. They visit a shop on Monday.
C. They travel outside Scotland.
D. They get a free day the following week.

R25. What does the advertisement say about a driving licence?

A. All applicants must have one.
B. It is useful but not necessary.
C. Only staff in Glasgow need one.
D. The company pays for it.

Part 2B: True / False (R26–R30)

Read the passage and write T (True) or F (False) (Questions 26–30).

> The Hub Co-working Space: Questions and Answers
>
> Who works at The Hub? Most of our members are freelance designers and developers, but we also have a few small companies with two or three staff.
>
> When is The Hub open? We are open from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. every day, including weekends. Members with a Gold card can use The Hub twenty-four hours a day.
>
> Do I have to book a desk? No, you don't. Just come in and choose a free desk. However, you have to book the meeting room at least one day before you need it.
>
> How fast is the Wi-Fi? It is very fast, and our technician tests the connection every morning. Please don't connect more than two devices at the same time, because this slows down the network for everyone.
>
> Can I print documents? Yes. Each member can print 100 pages a month free of charge. After that, each page costs 5p.
>
> Can I bring my dog? I'm afraid not. Pets are not allowed in the building.

Part A: Translation (W31–W35)

Translate these sentences into Vietnamese (Questions 31–35).

W31. Our database administrator hardly ever works at weekends, but she sometimes checks the servers on Sunday evening.

W32. How often does the company launch a new version of its software?

W33. All employees have to lock their laptops in a drawer at night, and they mustn't take customer files home.

W34. The company has two production facilities in Asia and sells its products to clients in more than thirty countries.

W35. I'm afraid I don't agree. Perhaps we could ask the supplier for a discount instead.

Part B: Instruction email

You are the office manager. Jenny is a new receptionist in your company. Write an email to Jenny explaining how to give a visitor access to the guest Wi-Fi, using the notes below. In your email you must use:
- at least two adverbs of frequency or time expressions (always, never, every Monday);
- at least two rule structures (must, mustn't, have to, should) or imperatives.
Follow the standard layout for an email giving instructions: From / To / Date / Subject, a greeting, It should be quite easy to …, the steps with First / Then / Next / After that / Finally, a reminder (Don't forget to … when you've finished.), then Best wishes and your name, position and department.
Write 80–100 words (do not count the From, To, Date and Subject lines).

- ask the visitor to sign the visitors' book / always check their ID
- give them a guest Wi-Fi card from the top drawer (the password changes every Monday)
- never give visitors the staff Wi-Fi password
- show them how to connect to the "Guest" network
- if the connection doesn't work, call the helpdesk on extension 200
- reminder: lock the drawer when you've finished

Required language: Adverbs of frequency and time expressions (at least two): always, never, every Monday; Rules (at least two): must, mustn't, have to, should; imperatives (Ask…, Never give…); Present simple for regular routines.

Write 80–100 words in the body: count from the greeting through the signature; exclude From / To / Date / Subject.

From: _____

To: Jenny

Date: _____

Subject: _____

Hi / Dear Jenny,

It should be quite easy to _____ .

Speaking

2.5 points

Part 1 (S1)

Answer the three questions. Speak for 30–45 seconds for each question.

Suggested time: 45 seconds per question.

1. What do you usually do on a normal weekday? Talk about your routine. Use adverbs of frequency and time expressions (always, often, hardly ever, once a week, at the weekend).

2. Ask a classmate three questions about their part-time job or their university timetable. Use present simple questions (Do you…? How often do you…? What time does…?).

3. What rules does your family have about using phones or the internet at home? Use must, mustn't, have to, don't have to or can't.

Part 2 (S2)

Describe someone's working week. Speak for 1–1.5 minutes.

Suggested time: 90 seconds.

Look at the weekly timetable of Tuan, a database administrator. Describe his duties and how often he does each one. Use the present simple and adverbs of frequency or time expressions (always, usually, every evening, twice a month, every Thursday), and say which task you think is the most important and why.

- every evening, 6.00: back up the customer database
- Monday morning: check how fast the database answers queries
- twice a month: update staff permissions
- every Thursday, 2.00: meeting with the developers
- never deletes old data without a backup

Required language: Present simple for duties: She checks…, She trains…; Adverbs of frequency and time expressions: always, usually, every day, twice a week, once a month, never.

Part 3 (S3)

Deal with the situation. Speak for 1–1.5 minutes.

Suggested time: 90 seconds.

Your office prints too much paper, and printing costs are very high. In a meeting, respond to your colleagues' ideas in the cues, then make at least two suggestions of your own. Use shall or could, how about / what about + -ing, maybe or perhaps, and I'm afraid… to disagree politely.

- Colleague's idea 1: remove all the printers from the office → disagree politely and give a reason
- Colleague's idea 2: print on both sides of the paper → agree
- Your suggestions: set a monthly printing limit for each person / send documents by email / share files on the company server

Required language: Suggestions: Shall we…?, We could…, How about / What about + -ing?; Softening: Maybe / Perhaps we could…; Disagreeing politely: I'm afraid… + reason.
