Listening transcript — Part A

Sam: Good morning, TaskPoint sales. Sam speaking.

Grace: Hello, my name's Grace Evans. I'm the office manager at a small accounting firm. We're looking for project management software for our team, and I have a few questions.

Sam: Of course. What would you like to know?

Grace: First, could you tell me how much TaskPoint costs?

Sam: Sure. We use tiered pricing. The Team level costs eight dollars per user each month, and the Business level is fifteen dollars per user.

Grace: I see. Do you know what the difference between the two levels is?

Sam: Both levels have the same planning tools. But with the Business level, you also get telephone support and more storage. With the Team level, support is by email only.

Grace: OK. Can you tell me whether it works on mobile phones? Our accountants often visit clients.

Sam: Yes, both levels have a mobile app.

Grace: Great. And is there a trial period?

Sam: Yes, you can try it out free for thirty days. You don't need to give any card details.

Grace: That sounds good. There are twelve of us, so the Business level would come to a hundred and eighty dollars a month. That's more than we want to spend at the moment.

Sam: Then I'd recommend starting with the Team level. You can upgrade at any time.

Grace: Thanks. I think it's best to try the Team level first. I'll sign up for the trial today.

Listening transcript — Part B

Olivia: Good afternoon, everyone. Today I'm going to give you my recommendations for new laptops for your sales team. I looked at three models: the Vega, the Zenith and the Arlo.

Olivia: Let's start with the Vega. It's the cheapest of the three at five hundred and eighty dollars, but it is also the heaviest, so it isn't ideal for people who travel a lot. The Zenith is the lightest laptop, and its battery lasts fourteen hours, which is longer than the other two. However, it costs twelve hundred and fifty dollars, and that's too expensive for your budget.

Olivia: In my opinion, the Arlo is the best choice. It's almost as light as the Zenith, its battery lasts eleven hours, and it costs seven hundred and ninety dollars.

Olivia: I also recommend buying a spare charger for each laptop, because your staff often work in hotels and airports. Finally, I think it's best to order the laptops this month, because the supplier is going to increase its prices in June. Thank you. Are there any questions?

Speaking

2.5 points

Các bài mẫu là gợi ý tham khảo, không phải đáp án đúng duy nhất. Part 1 có câu hỏi mở và không có bài mẫu trong bộ dữ liệu.

Part 1 (S1)

Answer the three questions. Speak for 30–45 seconds for each question.

Suggested time: 45 seconds per question.

1. Compare two phones, laptops or other devices that you know. Which one is better for a student, and why? Use comparatives and superlatives (cheaper than, as … as, the best).

2. How much do you spend on technology each month, for example on your phone plan, internet or apps? Use cost, spend, pay or come to.

3. Imagine you want to buy a new laptop. What would you ask the shop assistant? Ask at least two indirect questions (Could you tell me…? / Do you know whether…?).

Part 2 (S2)

Compare the products and give a recommendation. Speak for 1–1.5 minutes.

Suggested time: 90 seconds.

A friend works as a freelance graphic designer and needs online storage for large design files. Compare the three cloud storage plans in the cues and recommend one. Use comparatives and superlatives, and at least one recommendation structure (I recommend…, I think it's best to…, In my opinion, you should…).

- Lite: $2 a month / 50 GB / web support only
- Plus: $6 a month / 500 GB / email support
- Pro: $15 a month / 2 TB / telephone support
- Your friend's design files: about 300 GB now, growing every month

Required language: Comparatives and superlatives: cheaper than, more storage than, the most expensive, as … as; Recommendations: I recommend + -ing / that you + verb; I think it's best to…; you should….

Sample response

> I compared the three plans for you. Lite is the cheapest plan at only two dollars a month, but it has the least storage, just fifty gigabytes, so it's too small for your design files. Plus costs six dollars a month and gives you five hundred gigabytes, which is ten times more storage than Lite. It also has email support. Pro is the most expensive plan at fifteen dollars, but it has the most storage, two terabytes, and telephone support. Your files are about three hundred gigabytes now, so Plus is big enough for the moment. In my opinion, you should choose Plus. I recommend checking your storage every few months, and when your files get close to five hundred gigabytes, I think it's best to move to Pro.

Part 3 (S3)

Deal with the situation. Speak for 1–1.5 minutes.

Suggested time: 90 seconds.

Last week you bought equipment for a new employee in your department. Your manager wants to know how much everything cost. Use the receipt in the cues to explain the costs. Talk about money with cost, come to, spend and pay, say the prices clearly, and compare at least two items.

- laptop: $899
- laptop bag: $45
- wireless mouse: $25
- two-year support plan: $120
- everything together: $1,089 (budget: $1,200)

Required language: Talking about money: The laptop cost…; Everything came to…; We spent … on…; We paid…; Saying prices: eight hundred and ninety-nine dollars; one thousand and eighty-nine / ten eighty-nine dollars; Comparatives: The mouse was cheaper than the bag..

Sample response

> I bought all the equipment for our new colleague last week. The laptop was the most expensive item. It cost eight hundred and ninety-nine dollars. I also bought a laptop bag, which was forty-five dollars, and a wireless mouse for twenty-five dollars, so the mouse was cheaper than the bag. Then we paid a hundred and twenty dollars for a two-year support plan, because the laptop will travel a lot. Altogether, everything came to one thousand and eighty-nine dollars. Our budget was twelve hundred dollars, so we spent a hundred and eleven dollars less than we planned. I think we can use the extra money for a spare charger.
