Ben: Sarah, have you seen the travel costs for this year? We spent nearly thirty thousand pounds on flights to the factory in Da Nang.

Sarah: I know. Our designers are flying there every two months, and the tickets are getting more and more expensive.

Ben: That's why I want to talk about video conferencing. If we had a proper system, the designers wouldn't need to travel so often.

Sarah: But would it really work? They need to look at the furniture samples.

Ben: The new systems have very clear cameras. If someone at the factory held a sample up to the camera, our designers would see every detail.

Sarah: What about the time difference? Vietnam is six hours ahead of us.

Ben: We could have meetings at nine in the morning here. That's three in the afternoon there.

Sarah: OK. And how much would a system cost?

Ben: About twelve thousand pounds for both sites, with the cameras and screens.

Sarah: So if we bought it, we would save money in the first year.

Ben: Exactly. And the designers would be happier. They're getting tired of long flights.

Sarah: Fine. Could you get prices from two suppliers by Friday? Then I'll present them to the directors.

Listening transcript — Part B

Emma: Good afternoon, everyone. Today I'm going to describe how our customers are contacting us this year, because things are changing very quickly.

Emma: First, phone calls. The number of calls to our help desk is going down. Last year we received about two thousand calls a week. Now it's around twelve hundred. At the same time, more and more customers are using live chat on our website. Live chat is now our most popular channel, with about three thousand conversations a week.

Emma: Email is staying about the same. Another trend is social media. Younger customers are sending us questions through social media, and this channel is getting bigger every month.

Emma: Our mobile app is becoming more popular too, especially the feature called Quick Pay, which lets customers pay a bill with one tap. Because of these changes, we're going to train six more staff to answer live chat from next month. Thank you.

Speaking

2.5 points

Các bài mẫu là gợi ý tham khảo, không phải đáp án đúng duy nhất. Part 1 có câu hỏi mở và không có bài mẫu trong bộ dữ liệu.

Part 1 (S1)

Answer the three questions. Speak for 30–45 seconds for each question.

Suggested time: 45 seconds per question.

1. How is the way people shop changing in your country? Describe two trends. Use the present continuous and phrases such as more and more, is getting + comparative, or is going up/down.

2. If you could add one new feature to your favourite app, what would it be and why? Answer with the second conditional (If I could…, I would…).

3. Think of a technical word that you know, for example cloud storage or Wi-Fi. Explain what it means to someone who does not know it. Use at least one of these ways to give a meaning: called, which means, or is.

Part 2 (S2)

Ask for training. Speak for 1–1.5 minutes.

Suggested time: 90 seconds.

You have just joined a company that uses an enterprise social network. Leave a voice message for the IT trainer. Explain that you are new, then ask for the training you need, using the cues. Make at least four polite requests (It would be great to know…, I'd like to know…, Could someone tell me / show me…?, Could you…?).

- how to find old messages
- how to join the group for your project
- how to change the privacy settings on your profile
- how to use the network on your phone
- the date and place of the next training session

Required language: Polite requests (at least four): It would be great to know how to…; I'd like to know…; Could someone tell me / show me…?; Could you…?.

Sample response

> Hello, this is Nam from the sales department. I joined the company last week, and I'm still learning how to use our social network, so I'd like to ask for some training. First, it would be great to know how to find old messages, because my manager often asks me about earlier discussions. I'd also like to know how to join the group for my project. Could someone show me how to change the privacy settings on my profile? I don't want everyone to see my phone number. I often visit customers, so could you tell me how to use the network on my phone? Finally, could you let me know the date and place of the next training session? Thank you very much. My extension is two four five.

Part 3 (S3)

Deal with the situation. Speak for 1–1.5 minutes.

Suggested time: 90 seconds.

Your parents run a small bookshop in your town. They do not have a website, and sales in the shop are going down. They ask you what would happen if they started selling books online. Use the cues and answer with at least four second conditional sentences (If you sold…, customers would/could…).

- now: only customers who live in the town
- an online shop: customers from all over the country
- online payment and home delivery
- customer reviews on the website
- cost: about £40 a month for the website, more time to pack orders

Required language: Second conditional (at least four sentences): If + past simple, … would/could + infinitive.

Sample response

> At the moment, only people who live in our town can buy books from you, and sales in the shop are going down. I think an online shop would help. If you sold books online, customers from all over the country could buy from you. If the website had online payment and home delivery, busy people wouldn't need to visit the shop. If customers wrote reviews on the website, other people would trust the shop more. Of course, there are some costs. The website would cost about forty pounds a month, and if you got a lot of orders, you would need more time to pack them. But if you didn't start selling online, sales would probably keep going down. So I think you should try it for six months.
