> Problems with the Staff App at Lakeview Hotel
>
> Three weeks ago, Lakeview Hotel started using a new app for its cleaning and maintenance staff. Staff use the app on their phones to see which rooms need cleaning and to report repairs. About forty staff use the app every day. Since the first week, however, there have been problems. The app has crashed many times, usually when staff try to upload photos of broken items.
> Kenji, the hotel's IT officer, has investigated the problem. So far, he has updated the app on every phone and checked the hotel's wi-fi. He has also asked three members of staff to write down the time of every crash. When he switched off the wi-fi on a test phone and used mobile data instead, the app crashed in exactly the same way, so the hotel's wi-fi can't be the cause. He has also noticed that the crashes only happen on older phones and never on the new models that the managers use.
>
> Kenji thinks that the problem might be the size of the photos. Older phones have less memory, and the app could be running out of memory when it processes large images. He hasn't contacted the app developer yet, but he plans to send them a report this afternoon.
>
> Until the developer releases an update, Kenji has suggested a simple solution. Staff should try reducing the photo size in the camera settings. If the app still crashes, they should describe the problem in words instead of sending a photo. Kenji will look at the results at the end of the week.

R21. When does the app usually crash?

A. When staff upload photos
B. When staff log in
C. During the night
D. When managers use it

R22. Why is Kenji sure that the wi-fi is not the cause?

A. The developer told him.
B. The app works without a network.
C. The app also crashes without the wi-fi.
D. Staff only use mobile data.

R23. On which phones does the app crash?

A. Only the managers' phones
B. Only older phones
C. All the staff phones
D. Only the new models

R24. What hasn't Kenji done yet?

A. Updated the app on every phone
B. Checked the hotel's wi-fi
C. Asked staff to record the crashes
D. Contacted the app developer

R25. What has Kenji suggested that staff should try?

A. Reducing the photo size
B. Buying new phones
C. Turning off the wi-fi
D. Deleting the app

Part 2B: True / False (R26–R30)

Read the passage and write T (True) or F (False) (Questions 26–30).

> From Help Desk to Network Engineer
>
> Linh Tran is twenty-six and works as a support technician at a bank in Hanoi. She studied computer science and finished her degree in 2021. Since then, she has worked at the bank's help desk, where she answers calls from staff and solves problems with their computers and accounts. She has been at the bank for almost five years.
>
> Linh enjoys helping people, but she hopes to become a network engineer one day. Last year, she started an evening course in computer networks, which she attends twice a week. She has already completed the first part of the course, and she expects to finish the second part in December.
>
> Her manager has agreed to let her spend one day a month with the bank's network team. Linh intends to apply for a junior network engineer position when the course ends. In the long term, she plans to work abroad, possibly in Singapore or Australia. She says the most important thing that she has learned at the help desk is how to explain technical problems in simple words.

W35. Have you looked up the error code in the manual yet?

Part B: Instruction email

You are an IT support technician. Ben, a sales manager, reported that his laptop has been very slow this week. Write an email to Ben explaining what you have already done and how he can make his laptop faster, using the notes below. In your email you must use:
- the present perfect with already and with yet (I have already…, I haven't… yet);
- may, might or could to talk about a possible cause;
- should or try + -ing to suggest a solution.
Follow the standard layout for an email giving instructions: From / To / Date / Subject, a greeting, It should be quite easy to …, the steps with First / Then / Next / After that / Finally, a reminder (Don't forget to … when you've finished.), then Best wishes and your name, position and department.
Write 80–100 words (do not count the From, To, Date and Subject lines).

- already: run a virus scan / not yet: check the hard drive
- try closing programs Ben doesn't use
- open Task Manager / stop programs that start automatically (a possible cause)
- delete old temporary files / restart the laptop
- if it is still slow: bring the laptop to the IT office on Friday (the old hard drive could be the cause)
- reminder: tell the IT team if the laptop is faster

Required language: Present perfect with already and yet: I have already run…; I haven't checked… yet; Speculating about causes: may, might, could; Suggesting solutions: should; try + -ing; If…, you should….

Write 80–100 words in the body: count from the greeting through the signature; exclude From / To / Date / Subject.

Speaking

2.5 points

Part 1 (S1)

Answer the three questions. Speak for 30–45 seconds for each question.

Suggested time: 45 seconds per question.

1. What have you already done this week for your studies, and what haven't you done yet? Use the present perfect with already and yet.

2. A friend's phone battery runs out very quickly. What advice can you give? Use should, try + -ing or If…, you should….

3. What do you hope to do in the next five years? Use plan to, intend to, hope to or expect to.

Part 2 (S2)

Speculate about the cause of a problem. Speak for 1–1.5 minutes.

Suggested time: 90 seconds.

You are helping a colleague in a meeting room. The projector shows no picture from the laptop. Look at the facts in the cues and explain what might, could, must or can't be the cause. Then say what your colleague should try. Use may, might, could, must and can't.

- the projector's power light is on
- the projector screen says 'No signal'
- the laptop screen works normally
- the video cable is connected only at the laptop end
- another laptop worked with this projector this morning

Required language: Speculation: may, might, could (possible); must (almost certain); can't (impossible); Suggestions: should; try + -ing.

Part 3 (S3)

Deal with the situation. Speak for 1–1.5 minutes.

Suggested time: 90 seconds.

You are at an interview for a junior IT support job. The interviewer asks you to talk about your experience and your plans. Use the present perfect for your experience (I have worked…, I have already…) and plan to, hope to, intend to or expect to for your plans.

- your studies: subject / when you expect to graduate
- experience: part-time help desk job at university / what you have done there
- skills you have already learned
- plans: what you hope to do in this job / a course you intend to take
- in five years: what you plan to do

Required language: Present perfect for experience: I have worked…, I have already learned…; Future plans: plan to, hope to, intend to, expect to + verb.
