Listening transcript — Part A

Leah: Sam, the projector in Room 3 has switched itself off again. That's the third time this week.

Sam: Does it happen at a particular time?

Leah: Yes, always after about twenty minutes. The teacher has to wait a few minutes before she can switch it on again.

Sam: Then it might be getting too hot. Projectors switch off automatically when they overheat.

Leah: Could it be the lamp? The projector is quite old.

Sam: It can't be the lamp. We replaced it last month.

Leah: True. Is anything blocking the air vents?

Sam: I don't think so. It's on a shelf near the wall, but there's at least half a metre of space behind it.

Leah: Then what about the filter? When did someone last clean it?

Sam: I don't think anyone has cleaned it since we installed it two years ago. It must be full of dust.

Leah: That's probably it. If the filter is dirty, air can't get through.

Sam: I'll clean it this afternoon. If it still switches off, we should ask the supplier to check the fan.

Part B

Grace, a technician from an IT support company, leaves a voicemail for Mr Howard, an office manager, about a problem with the staff emails.

L6. How many computers has Grace checked?

Answer: twelve / 12 / all twelve / all 12 / twelve computers / 12 computers

Giải thích: Grace nói "I've already checked all twelve computers in your office".

L7. On which day was the email password changed?

Answer: tuesday / on tuesday / last tuesday

Giải thích: "Your email password was changed on Tuesday".

L8. In which department has Grace not updated the computers yet?

Answer: finance / the finance department / finance department / the finance

Giải thích: "I haven't done the computers in the finance department yet". Năm máy ở phòng kinh doanh (sales office) đã được cập nhật.

L9. What time will Grace come back tomorrow?

Answer: nine / 9 / nine o'clock / 9 o'clock / at nine / at 9 / 9 am / 9am / nine am / at nine o'clock

Giải thích: "I'll come back tomorrow morning at nine to finish the job."

L10. What ends next month?

Answer: the antivirus licence / antivirus licence / the antivirus / antivirus / the licence / antivirus license / the antivirus license

Giải thích: "your antivirus licence ends next month, so you should renew it soon".

Listening transcript — Part B

Grace: Hi, Mr Howard, it's Grace from TechFix. I'm calling about the problem with your staff emails. I've already checked all twelve computers in your office, and I've found the cause.

Grace: Your email password was changed on Tuesday, but the new password hasn't been entered in the email program on each computer yet. That's why your staff can't send any messages. They can still receive emails, so nothing has been lost.

Grace: I've already updated the password on the five computers in the sales office. I haven't done the computers in the finance department yet, because the staff there were in a meeting all afternoon. I'll come back tomorrow morning at nine to finish the job. It should take about an hour.

Grace: Also, I've noticed that your antivirus licence ends next month, so you should renew it soon. I haven't checked your backup system yet, but I'll do that tomorrow too. If you have any questions, please call me on my mobile. Thanks. Bye.

Instruction email to Kevin

You are an IT support technician. Kevin, an accountant, reported that the second monitor connected to his laptop shows no picture. Write an email to Kevin explaining what you have already done and what he can do now, using the notes below. In your email you must use:
- the present perfect with already and with yet (I have already…, I haven't… yet);
- may, might or could to talk about a possible cause;
- should or try + -ing to suggest a solution.
Follow the standard layout for an email giving instructions: From / To / Date / Subject, a greeting, It should be quite easy to …, the steps with First / Then / Next / After that / Finally, a reminder (Don't forget to … when you've finished.), then Best wishes and your name, position and department.
Write 80–100 words (do not count the From, To, Date and Subject lines).

- already: check the monitor's power cable / not yet: replace the video cable
- possible cause: the video cable might be loose
- check the video cable at both ends
- press the Windows key and P / choose 'Extend'
- restart the laptop
- if there is still no picture: try using the other port on the laptop
- reminder: let the IT team know whether the monitor works

Speaking

2.5 points

Các bài mẫu là gợi ý tham khảo, không phải đáp án đúng duy nhất. Part 1 có câu hỏi mở và không có bài mẫu trong bộ dữ liệu.

Part 1 (S1)

Answer the three questions. Speak for 30–45 seconds for each question.

Suggested time: 45 seconds per question.

1. Think about a problem that you have had with a phone or a computer. What have you already tried, and what haven't you tried yet? Use the present perfect with already and yet.

2. Your laptop has become very slow this week. What might the reasons be? Use may, might, could, must or can't.

3. What job would you like after university? Talk about your plans, using plan to, intend to, hope to or expect to.

Part 2 (S2)

Speculate about the cause of a problem. Speak for 1–1.5 minutes.

Suggested time: 90 seconds.

The office printer has started to print grey lines down every page. Look at the facts in the cues and explain what might, could, must or can't be the cause. Then say what your colleagues should try. Use may, might, could, must and can't.

- grey lines on every page, from every computer
- the problem started after the printer was moved to another room
- a test page printed from the printer's own menu also has lines
- the toner cartridge was replaced yesterday
- the second printer in the office prints normally

Required language: Speculating: may/might/could + verb (possible); must (almost certain); can't (impossible): It can't be the computers; The drum might be damaged..

Sample response

> Let's think about the cause of these grey lines. The lines appear on every page from every computer, so it can't be a problem with one computer. Also, the test page from the printer's own menu has lines too, so the problem must be inside the printer itself. It can't be an empty toner cartridge, because we replaced it yesterday. The problem started after the printer was moved, so something might be damaged inside. For example, the drum could be scratched, or some toner may be loose inside the printer. First, we should try cleaning the inside with a dry cloth. If that doesn't help, we should try a new drum. Until then, everyone should use the second printer, because it prints normally.

Part 3 (S3)

Deal with the situation. Speak for 1–1.5 minutes.

Suggested time: 90 seconds.

Your old secondary school has invited you to talk to students who want to study IT. Tell them about your experience so far and your plans. Use the present perfect for your experience (I have studied…, I have already…, I haven't… yet) and plan to, intend to, hope to or expect to for your plans.

- the subjects you have studied so far
- a project you have already finished
- something you haven't done yet (for example, an internship)
- your plans for after graduation
- a skill you hope to learn in the next few years

Required language: Present perfect for experience: I have studied…; I have already finished…; I haven't done… yet.; plan / intend / hope / expect + to-infinitive for future plans.

Sample response

> Hello, everyone. I studied at this school five years ago, and now I'm in my third year of information technology at university. So far, I've studied programming, databases, networks and English for IT. I've already finished a big group project: we built a website for a local charity, and it's still online today. However, I haven't done an internship yet. I plan to apply for one this summer, because I want some real work experience. After graduation, I expect to work as a junior developer for a software company in Hanoi. In the next few years, I hope to learn more about cloud computing, and I intend to improve my English, because many IT companies work with foreign clients. If you like solving problems, IT is a great choice.
