Part 2A: Reading comprehension (R21–R25)

Read the passage and choose the best answer A, B, C or D (Questions 21–25).

> Huy's Plans for the Future
> Huy is twenty-two, and he has just finished a degree in software engineering in Da Nang. During his studies, he worked on three small mobile games with two friends. One of the games has been downloaded more than 50,000 times, and Huy has learned a lot from the players' comments. Some players asked for new characters, and the team added them within a few weeks.
> Since he graduated, Huy has already had two job interviews with game companies. The first company offered him a job testing games, but he said no, because he hopes to work as a programmer, not as a tester. His second interview was last Friday, and he hasn't heard from the company yet.
> While he waits, Huy is working hard to become a better programmer. He intends to learn a new game engine this summer, and he plans to build a small game with it by September. He also wants to improve his English, because many game studios in Vietnam work with clients in other countries, and meetings are often held in English.
> In the long term, Huy expects to work for a company in Vietnam for about five years. After that, he hopes to start his own studio with the two friends who made the games with him. He knows that it will not be easy, but he thinks that a small team can make games that people love.

R21. What has happened to one of Huy's games?

A. It has won a prize at the university.
B. It has been downloaded more than 50,000 times.
C. It has been sold to a game company.
D. It has been removed from the app store.

R22. Why did Huy say no to the first job?

A. The salary was too low.
B. The company was too far from Da Nang.
C. He wants to be a programmer, not a tester.
D. He had already accepted another job.

R23. What hasn't happened yet?

A. The second company has not replied to Huy.
B. Huy has not finished his degree.
C. Huy has not had any interviews.
D. Huy has not made any games.

R24. What does Huy plan to do by September?

A. Start his own studio
B. Move to another country
C. Visit game studios abroad
D. Build a small game with a new game engine

R25. What does Huy hope to do in the long term?

A. Start a studio with his two friends
B. Work as a game tester
C. Teach programming at a university
D. Work abroad for five years

Part 2B: True / False (R26–R30)

Read the passage and write T (True) or F (False) (Questions 26–30).

> What to Do If You Spill a Drink on Your Laptop
> Spilling a drink on a laptop is one of the most common accidents in offices, and it often happens when people eat or drink at their desks. If it happens to you, you should switch the laptop off immediately and unplug the charger. You shouldn't wait to save your work, because liquid can damage the electronics in a few seconds.

Next, turn the laptop upside down and let the liquid run out. Try using a soft, dry cloth to clean the keyboard and the screen. You shouldn't use a hairdryer, because the hot air may damage the parts inside.

Leave the laptop to dry for at least forty-eight hours before you switch it on again. If it still doesn't start, you should take it to the IT department and explain exactly what happened. Don't try to open the laptop yourself. Sweet drinks such as cola are more dangerous than water, because the sugar can stay inside the keyboard and make the keys stick.

R26. You should save your work before you switch off a wet laptop.

☐ True ☐ False

R27. You should turn the laptop upside down to let the liquid run out.

☐ True ☐ False

R28. A hairdryer is a good way to dry the laptop.

☐ True ☐ False

R29. You should wait at least forty-eight hours before you switch the laptop on again.

☐ True ☐ False

R30. Water is more dangerous for a laptop than cola.

☐ True ☐ False

Part A: Translation (W31–W35)

Translate these sentences into Vietnamese (Questions 31–35).

W31. Every problem that users report is recorded in our issue tracking system.

W32. The video call keeps freezing, so there might be a connection error between the router and the server.

W33. We have already replaced the keyboard, but the laptop still doesn't work.

W34. If you feel pain in your back, you should try a different chair.

W35. Good organisational skills are important if you hope to become a project manager.

Part B: Instruction email

You are an IT support technician. Kevin, an accountant, reported that the second monitor connected to his laptop shows no picture. Write an email to Kevin explaining what you have already done and what he can do now, using the notes below. In your email you must use:
- the present perfect with already and with yet (I have already…, I haven't… yet);
- may, might or could to talk about a possible cause;
- should or try + -ing to suggest a solution.
Follow the standard layout for an email giving instructions: From / To / Date / Subject, a greeting, It should be quite easy to …, the steps with First / Then / Next / After that / Finally, a reminder (Don't forget to … when you've finished.), then Best wishes and your name, position and department.
Write 80–100 words (do not count the From, To, Date and Subject lines).

- already: check the monitor's power cable / not yet: replace the video cable
- possible cause: the video cable might be loose
- check the video cable at both ends
- press the Windows key and P / choose 'Extend'
- restart the laptop
- if there is still no picture: try using the other port on the laptop
- reminder: let the IT team know whether the monitor works

Required language: Present perfect with already and yet; Speculating: may, might, could + verb; Suggesting solutions: should; try + -ing; If…, you should….

Write 80–100 words in the body: count from the greeting through the signature; exclude From / To / Date / Subject.

Speaking

2.5 points

Part 1 (S1)

Answer the three questions. Speak for 30–45 seconds for each question.

Suggested time: 45 seconds per question.

1. Think about a problem that you have had with a phone or a computer. What have you already tried, and what haven't you tried yet? Use the present perfect with already and yet.

2. Your laptop has become very slow this week. What might the reasons be? Use may, might, could, must or can't.

3. What job would you like after university? Talk about your plans, using plan to, intend to, hope to or expect to.

Part 2 (S2)

Speculate about the cause of a problem. Speak for 1–1.5 minutes.

Suggested time: 90 seconds.

The office printer has started to print grey lines down every page. Look at the facts in the cues and explain what might, could, must or can't be the cause. Then say what your colleagues should try. Use may, might, could, must and can't.

- grey lines on every page, from every computer
- the problem started after the printer was moved to another room
- a test page printed from the printer's own menu also has lines
- the toner cartridge was replaced yesterday
- the second printer in the office prints normally

Required language: Speculating: may/might/could + verb (possible); must (almost certain); can't (impossible): It can't be the computers; The drum might be damaged..

Part 3 (S3)

Deal with the situation. Speak for 1–1.5 minutes.

Suggested time: 90 seconds.

Your old secondary school has invited you to talk to students who want to study IT. Tell them about your experience so far and your plans. Use the present perfect for your experience (I have studied…, I have already…, I haven't… yet) and plan to, intend to, hope to or expect to for your plans.

- the subjects you have studied so far
- a project you have already finished
- something you haven't done yet (for example, an internship)
- your plans for after graduation
- a skill you hope to learn in the next few years

Required language: Present perfect for experience: I have studied…; I have already finished…; I haven't done… yet.; plan / intend / hope / expect + to-infinitive for future plans.
